DETAILED ACTION

The Amendment filed on August 29, 2002 has been acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 7-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Admitted Prior Art of Figs. 4 and 5 (APA).

APA discloses all the claimed features of the invention including:

- a body composition measuring apparatus (Fig. 4's) with a built-in weight meter (page 2, lines 14-15) based on bioelectrical impedance measurement, comprising:
 - a weight meter (page 2, lines 14-15) for measuring a weight of a person under test (Fig. 4's);
 - a data input device (88); an impedance measurement device (s16); and a CPU (control device of apparatus, see s14, s17), wherein personal body information is entered using said data input device after measuring the weight (after s18 loop back to s12, Fig. 5); and said CPU estimates the body composition of the person under test based upon an output of said weight meter and data from said input device and said impedance measurement device (from s12 to s18);

- said weight meter determines a no-load output thereof immediately after power up of said apparatus (page 2, line 24 – page 3, line 2);

- said weight meter measures the weight in response to detecting the load (Fig. 5);

- said personal body information is entered while the person under test stands on said weight meter (Figs. 4's);

- said personal body information includes at least one of the following: the height, the sex and the age of the person under test (page 2, lines 25-26);

- said body composition includes at least one of the following: the body fat percentage, the fat mass, the amount of body water and the amount of muscle of the person under test (page 3. lines 8-11).

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed on August 29, 2002 have been fully considered but they are traversed in view of the rejection discussed above.
